Patent details

Application number	GB2002450.1
Publication number	GB2596037
Application title	Data anonymisation
Abstract title	Data anonymisation
Grant title	Data anonymisation
Abstract	A device and method for anonymising data prior to storage. Captured data is received and an identification unit processes the captured data to identify personal data within the captured data. The captured data may be image data such as still or moving images from cameras. The personal data maybe faces, number plates, ID badges, street names etc. An anonymisation unit obscures the identified personal data within the captured data providing anonymised data for output. The personal data maybe obscured via blurring, deleting or replacing the personal data with a pattern or alternate image. An encryption unit may be used to encrypt the captured data and output this alongside the anonymised data or also encrypt the anonymised data. This allows data to be anonymised without the need to store or transmit any personal data captured increasing the security of the personal data as it is not transmitted or stored in raw form.
